

MOTHER HOLDS INTRUDER WITH GUN AT HEAD

Picture Convoys Held a Prisoner on Kerska Farm Until Sheriff Arrives on Scene

PRISONER IS ACCUSED OF ATTEMPTED ASSAULT ON GIRL

"Over the Top" Veteran Says He Never Saw Any Weapon that Looked So Wicked

A menacing mother and an angry-looking woman held a man who is accused of attacking her daughter at bay on the Kerska farm, two miles south of Newburg, Conn., in Bohemian country, until the sheriff and the police arrived Wednesday afternoon and took him into custody. He is being held pending arraignment in county court.

Girl Alone in House

W. L. Harrington, about 28 years old, who gives Chicago as his home, and who conveys farmhouses for photographs to be enlarged, is the man charged with the statutory offense against Anna Kerska, 22 years old. Harrington reached the Kerska farm Wednesday afternoon when the father, mother and older brother and sister were working in the field. Only the daughter Anna was in the house. The older sister, returning to the house, found the girl and the stranger in a bedroom. The sister called her mother in from the field.

As soon as she learned of what had happened in the house, she seized a shotgun that was in the kitchen and pressed it against Harrington's chest, ordering him to remain where he stood. Then someone called Sheriff Miller.

Mother on Guard

Accompanied by Police Captain Dunn, Miller broke speed records getting to the Kerska farm. There they found Harrington seated under a tree, with the mother still on guard.

On the way to jail, Harrington told Miller that he had been in the service overseas, had seen trench life and had "come over the top" but never had been anything so formidable in the way of a weapon as the shotgun in Mrs. Kerska's hands and pointed directly at his head.

MRS. CORA ORTHWEIN COLLAPSES ON STAND

CHICAGO, Ill.—The testimony in the case of Mrs. Cora Orthwein, charged with killing Herbert P. Ziegler in her apartment several months ago will probably be concluded Thursday and arguments begin Friday, it being expected the jury will get the case Saturday.

Following Mrs. Orthwein's collapse Wednesday as she attempted to demonstrate how the actual killing of Ziegler was accomplished, her attorneys offered to give the case to the jury at once without argument, but the state's attorney objected.

PLANES FALL INTO WATER AFTER CRASH TWO ARE DROWNED

Accident Occurs During Army and Navy Tests With German U-Boats

TWO MORE SUBMARINES ARE SUNK IN HAMPTON ROADS

Half of Shells Fired by Destroyers Prove Effective

WASHINGTON.—Captain Howard Douglas and Lieut. M. J. Mumb, both of the army air service, were drowned in Hampton Roads Wednesday following a collision between their machines.

Lieut. Mumb was dropping bombs in practice flight in connection with the army and navy tests now in progress and after releasing a bomb his plane ascended into the air. It collided with that of Captain Douglas, which was flying above it and both machines crashed to the water.

Sink Two More Subs
A division of American destroyers sank the former German submarines U-140 and U-148 off Cape Charles Wednesday, firing a total of seventy-nine shells and making a total of thirty-nine hits.

The U-140 first attacked at a range of from two thousand to three thousand yards, by the division under command of Commander Mayo and nineteen of thirty-nine shells fired at her hit the mark, said a dispatch to the navy department from Hampton Roads naval base. She went down upon one hour and twenty-four minutes after the firing opened.

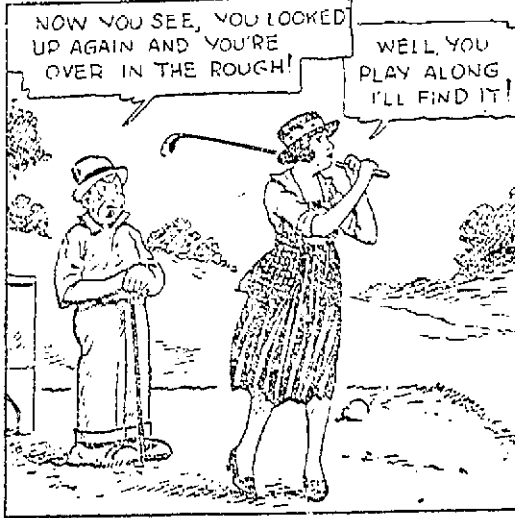

The U-148 was next attacked the destroyer Seward opening fire. Forty shells were fired by the destroyers in four minutes and forty-five seconds, and the submarine disappeared twenty-nine minutes after the first salvo from the destroyers. The attacks occurred sixty miles off Cape Charles Lightship.

Gladstone's Hints for Public Speaking
Gladstone was once asked to give some suggestions for platform aspirants and it is said that it was attention to these rules which in no small degree accounted for Gladstone's own power in "swaying audiences."

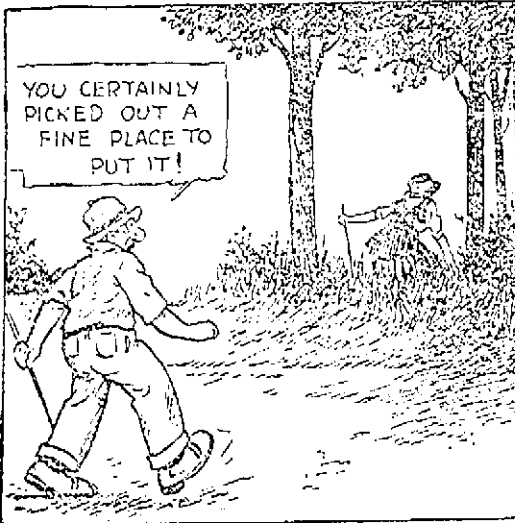

1.—Study plainness of language, always preferring the simpler word.
2.—Shortness of sentences.
3.—Distinctness of articulation.
4.—Test and question your own arguments before-hand, not waiting for critics or opponents.
5.—Seek a thorough digestion of, and familiarity with, your subject and rely mainly on these to prompt the proper words.
6.—Remember that if you are to sway an audience, you must besides thinking out your matter, watch it all along.

The body of Oscar Ludwig Gramann, member of the 33rd Infantry, who died in France, was buried in the Holmen cemetery with military honors last Sunday.

He was first stationed at Columbus Barracks and was later sent to Camp Wadsworth, Spartanburg, S. C., where he was placed in Company G, 33rd United States Infantry (regulars), of the Sixth division. Late in June his division was sent to Camp Mills and from there went directly overseas. He served with the 33rd Infantry during seven weeks of active duty at the front in Alsace and on the first of November was sent into the Argonne. After the armistice he went into winter quarters with his company near Chaumont and it was here that he was taken sick. He died at Revey, France, February 15, 1919, after but a few days' illness.

His remains were brought to Holmen last week for interment in his home cemetery.

Funeral services, under the auspices of the Morris Shingler post of the American Legion, were held on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Holmen church. Rev. E. Bertram officiating and Undertaker A. O. Jostad in charge of arrangements. The remains were escorted from the church to the grave in the Halfway cemetery by former service men, the 100 bearers and firing squad being Abner Rhans, August Engads, Alfred composed entirely of men who served in the late war. The North La Crosse Military band led the funeral procession to the cemetery where the last rites were given. The pall bearers were Christ Eiken, Manley Jostad, paper.—New York Sun.

Why "Wear-Ever" utensils SAVE FUEL

All "Wear-Ever" utensils are made of hard, cold-rolled, EXTRA-THICK sheet aluminum which has been subjected again and again to the enormous pressure of gigantic rolling mills. This makes the metal hard, dense, rigid and durable.

Because of this EXTRA thickness, extreme hardness and great density, the metal used in "Wear-Ever" utensils retains more heat than ordinary aluminum. Hence, "Wear-Ever" utensils cook more quickly and still use LESS FUEL than wares that are made in the usual manner.

This special offer is good only until July 2, 1921—so get your pan at the special price TODAY.

DESPISE NOT CHASTENING
My son, despise not the chastening of the Lord; neither be weary of his correction.—Proverbs 3: 11.

Graduates

SOME 1,100 students are being graduated from the University of Wisconsin. On its institutional side their education was a state enterprise. And so the question of what they have got out of education broadens into the question of what the state, society, will get out of it. This is not a question directed to idle information. There is back of it an element of responsibility. The special responsibility of trained minds. In 1913, in Wisconsin, there were 765,157 young people of school age. Of these 17,741 were graduated from elementary schools in that year. Of those who entered high school 7,844 were graduated in 1917, and mainly from this group came the 1,100 now being graduated from the University of Wisconsin. Making allowance for deaths and for diversion to other colleges, had all enjoyed existing educational opportunities to the full we should have had nearer 50,000 than 1,100 university graduates in 1921. The 1,100 graduates represent the third skimming of the cream. The point of responsibility is partly that, with all due allowances for superior ability, the thousands who dropped out were very largely controlled by lack of means to take further advantage of the facilities for education set up and maintained by the state at the common expense. In this sense the graduates enjoyed a special privilege which imposed a special responsibility above and beyond the general responsibility of cultivated and improved intelligence.

It is probable that never has this responsibility of the college graduate been greater, never has it been acquired in a more difficult situation, never has it been accompanied by greater perplexities. Analysis of this situation takes us back to what the graduate personally received out of education, because the graduate gives to society, out of his college course, in both quality and quantity, according to his personal endowment from his education.

"Running quicksilver-like through creation's veins" a sinister change is going on, and if it shall "elude our pains" we shall suffer the world-old penalty. With us in America it is part a foreign invasion, in part domestic perversion. Mainly its manifestations are social, political and religious—or irreligious, one had better say. It is a protest against existing things. It rebels at duty. It rejects standards because they are standards, not because they are good or bad. It belittles precedent. It scorns all anchors, holds all restraints in contempt. It is gross, animal, earthly, contemptuous of ideals, of traditions and of the lessons of history. It is sensuous in its dress, its art, its literature and its music. It stands for life unexpurgated by the finer judgment of an evolving race. It impregnates every phase of human relations, confusing its carnal themes with the idealism of social, political and religious liberty. It lacks all discrimination, the power to interpret, the insight to criticize.

Of course a tendency so general could not be kept entirely out of university and college life. The 1,100 students graduated from the university this week have lived with it, fought against it, or drifted with it. What they are today depends, as much as upon the ability they have acquired to think clearly, upon their reactions to things all about them. How do they value truth and the beautiful? What is their moral code, their moral worth? What is their ethical outlook on life? Are they qualified to serve in this crisis, and determined to do so, or are they rushing on with the flood?

Self restraint pays because licentiousness squanders the power to enjoy. Honesty is the best policy because it adds security to profit. Purity is profitable because without it beauty can not endure. Every sound material consideration is on the side of the tested and preserved standards of decent living, and it is in living up to these standards mainly that the individual develops the higher moral and spiritual being which finds its highest flights of happiness in their observation.

Have the 1,100 graduates of the University of Wisconsin stood the test of these trying times better than have the less fortunate common run of young people? Do they hold to the standards that are good, to the traditions that are wholesome, to precedents which have served civilization well? Have they developed the nobility of character so much needed in these times, and the ability and ambition to serve?

Everywhere thoughtless youth follows the jazz of folly into the flaming night of the new Babylon.

"Assyria, Greece, Rome, Carthage—what are they!"

This is no time for despondent pessimism. It is a time for active optimism. It is a time of great opportunity as well as of great responsibility. It is a time for straight seeing, straight thinking and straight ministry. The task is to disentangle the good and the bad, to distinguish safe courses from perilous byways, to set forth the morality of true liberty, the integrity of useful freedom. We must learn that the way may be straight, though broad. We shall be safe when again we have inculcated the lesson:

"Confirm thy soul in self control, Thy liberty in law."

Into the helter-skelter and waywardness of these seemingly incorrigible times must come the illuminating influence of trained intelligence. To exert it is the most bounden duty and the highest opportunity of scholarship. Through their graduates the universities must impart the truth to "those who having eyes see not, and having ears hear not the things that so nearly concern their temporal (and spiritual) salvation."

"And God saw the light, that it was good; and God divided the light from the darkness."

Evening Bathing

WE are—most of us—saving daylight this summer. The reason we are thus monkeying with the clock is so that we may enjoy longer hours of leisure in the longer days of summer. It seems therefore out of keeping that the city's most popular municipal summer amusement enterprise, the bath house, should be the subject of numerous protests received by the Tribune and Leader-Press on the score of closing too early. Bathers assert that the bathhouse now closes while it is still broad day, depriving them of half an hour to an hour's enjoyment of the water at the time when it is most convenient to go swimming. This seems a valid complaint, particularly as the city has gone to considerable trouble and confusion for the purpose of obtaining these extra hours of daylight for the public enjoyment in the shank of the day. It is to be hoped that the board of public works will recognize the discrepancy between saving daylight and neglect to provide suitable regulations for the most popular place in which to enjoy the saving and take steps to change it.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Based on his conclusion on the report of Prof. Charles Richter which specifies that electricity be used to run the new water plant ordered built here by the state railroad commission, Alderman Paul Mahoney announced that he would bring before the council a proposition to install a municipal lighting plant to be run in connection with the new pump house.

Carl Noprd of this city, who has been attending the state university will accompany Prof. Blackwelder of the university on a surveying trip in the Rocky Mountains.

Joseph Deppenich, aged 55, formerly of this city, died in Superior, Wis., following a stroke of paralysis. Chief of Police John Webber, backed by the mayor and common council, has decided to enforce the city ordinances governing wine rooms and hereafter every ordinance governing wine rooms not in full compliance with the law will be remodelled or the license of the owners will be taken away.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and other railroad organizations in La Crosse are planning a huge picnic, the largest ever given by organized labor in this part of the state, at which Senator La Follette, Samuel Compers, and other well known labor men are expected to be present and speak. The picnic will probably be given the latter part of July.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Last evening the commencement exercises of the high school were held in the theater. Forty-three graduates were given diplomas, Paul Mahoney of the board of education presenting them.

Mrs. A. C. Sillway, the former manager of the La Crosse military store which has been sold to William Doerflinger, will leave the city tomorrow for St. Paul, where she will resume her former position with a large wholesale house.

One hundred and fifty new electric lights have been placed in N. E. Holway's mill.

Wheat in the local market has dropped from sixty and sixty-one cents to fifty-eight cents. The increase in demand for Minnesota wheat has recommended the trouble on the Mississippi wagon bridge. Local buyers are attempting to get the first bid on the wheat, stand on the bridge and get it before it reaches the Wisconsin side in reach of the other buyers. Stopping of the teams when there is a long line waiting blockades the bridge.

Rev. Father Wirsh has returned to his home in Tomah after a few days' visit with Father Murphy.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Rev. E. O. Vik, pastor of the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran church on Charles street, assisted in the dedication yesterday of the new church at Frenchville, Trempealeau county.

Among the delegates in town attending the annual reunion of the Grand Army of the Republic was an Indian. He was a soldier during the war and wore the Grand Army badge also.

The Masonic Auxiliary, known as the Eastern Star, was instituted in this city last evening with twenty-eight charter members. The order is not new in this country but for a long time the Grand Lodge of Wisconsin would not recognize it. It was officially recognized early this spring and there are already twenty-three chapters in the state.

KEEP THEM GUESSING

By R. RAY BAKER

William Shakespeare didn't refer to Florence Davidson when he made that observation about it being easier to give advice than to act upon it. For Florence was one of those persons that practice what they preach. Her preaching was done through the columns of the "Evening Gazette," under the caption, "Advice to the Lovelorn, by Arabella Anderson." Every day, except Sunday, Florence answered questions of young women, and some young men, in regard to love affairs, preceding the replies an article of general advice.

The articles written by Florence lately had been accumulated and published in pamphlet form under the title "Keep Them Guessing," and these pamphlets were distributed free of charge to the readers of the "Gazette" who submitted the necessary coupon. Florence was a strong advocate of "guessing" in love affairs. She argued that a young man's interest became stimulated when he found himself unable to fathom the depths of his idol's nature. "Keep them guessing," never let up until the marriage knot is tied and don't let up then," was the gist of her advice, and many a fair reader heeded it and profited by it.

Because Florence practiced what she preached, Harvey Roberts was kept constantly on the anxious seat. He never could tell just where he stood with her. Her personality seemed to change from day to day, and next time Harvey saw her she was cold and distant. She never would admit definitely that she would marry him, but whenever he became convinced his case was hopeless, she would be sure to send him fresh encouragement by means of a few choice words of sentiment. He was "kept guessing."

Harvey did not realize that he was the constant subject of experiment for Arabella Anderson of the "Gazette." Indeed, he was not aware that Florence acted in that capacity on the newspaper, although of course he knew she held some position there. Yes, Harvey was experimented upon shamefully in order that the readers of the "Gazette" might profit; but from this it must not be inferred that Florence did not care for him. She really was in love with him, but felt she must follow Arabella Anderson's advice in order to keep him on the matrimonial eligible list.

One day Harvey had called for her at the modest dwelling where he lived with her mother. "What I see you here this evening?" he inquired. She gave him a particularly amiable, and he was confident, she would be glad to have him call. His insurance business had kept him out of town for a week, and it seemed like years since they had been together. He was then taken off his feet by her response.

NEW INVENTION SHOWS EXACT SHAPE OF WORD

How would you like to know the shape of the words you speak—their honest-to-goodness shape? M. Lorent, a Frenchman, has invented a machine called the Loreograph, that records the shape of spoken words in a very interesting manner. The principal of his invention is similar to that of a phonograph. A spoken word causes vibrations. Lorent's machine records these in a fine line on a piece of paper.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

Pigorous—Accent the "ig." Say the "or" as if it were spelled "ur"—that is, like the "er" in "over."
Psychology—The "y" isn't sounded. Pronounce the first "y" as you would long "i." "Chol" is pronounced like "col" in "colle." Accent the "chol." Make the last "y" sound like short "i."
Pseudo—"Pseu" is pronounced as though it were spelled "su" with the "u" long, as in "use." Accent the "pseu." "or" is sounded the same as "or" on "propose."
Prologue—Accent the first syllable. The first "o" is long. The second is like the "o" in "odd."

WOODCRAFT TIPS FOR OUR HIKERS

Smoke Signals

No telling how many campers or hikers owe their good health to smoke signals. Smoke signals in camp "come in handy" on various occasions and in various predicaments. For example, suppose you sprain your ankle while away from camp and can't possibly walk all the way back. Wouldn't a smoke signal be just the thing to call your pals to your aid?
A group of campers or hikers may make up their own set of smoke signals, if they wish. Here are two suggestions:
Two steady smokes (made by building two smoking fires): "I am lost; help me."
One steady smoke (one fire): "Camp is located here."
A dense smoke (made by throwing green stuff on a hot blaze): A regular code of signals similar to the dot and dash of the telegraph operator, can be made up. To use it the column of smoke will have to be broken into pieces of various lengths, some short and some long, to represent dots and dashes. This is done by waving or holding a blanket overhead, or a stick for a time and then pulling it away.

Written especially for the Boys and Girls Newspaper by George C. Smith, of the Philadelphia National League Club.

Nearly every boy who knows anything at all about baseball wants to pitch. When I was a youngster that was one of my fondest ambitions. During my experience in the box I have learned that there is much more about pitching than there seems to be to one who just watches. Most of this is to be learned only through practice, yet there are a few suggestions that prove valuable in getting the best results from practice.

Mix the Balls
Don't always pitch the kind of a ball a batter is weak on. He will soon realize you know his weakness and be looking for just that kind of ball. Keep him guessing by mixing them up.
When you think a batter will hunt give him a high ball. They are harder to hunt.
When you get the count to two strikes and three balls, go carefully. But don't always pitch the next ball fast and straddle. Curve it a little. The batter usually looks for a straight, swift pitch.

Use a Fast Windup
A fast windup is of value in hiding any signs that may help the opposing team learn what you are about to pitch. Get so you can hold the ball the same way for all your deliveries. Arrange with your catcher to signal to you when the runner is taking a long lead off first. Develop a quick throw to first base. It is necessary. The pitcher should always back up the infielders on balls that have been thrown in from the outfield. He should cover first when the ball has been hit to the first baseman.
Practice!

NAGGING

BY DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON

KNOW a millionaire who never knew that she could afford anything but a life of luxury. She was a woman who began life in a humble circumstance, and who acquired great wealth. Unfortunately, his wife had no large share in the making of his money, and it came more rapidly than was good for her.

After a while he got a divorce, and married another woman, and she suffered the reproach of those who said that his wife was less lovely in his eyes than she had been before.

Had Tale of Woe
That is true and just, and I blame him as much as any of them.

But this I know, that he was not the only one to blame. His wife kept up with his financial prosperity so far as wearing better clothes was concerned, but that was all, in everything else she lived on the level of the years when they had to count every cent.

When they came home at night, and she would meet him with a face as good as dead because the coat was demanding an extra dollar a week: "We can't afford it," she said.

She knew that she could afford diamonds and fur coats, but she never knew that she could afford anything but a life of luxury.

I do not suppose he was as patient with her as he should have been, and with her as he was more patient than wife had no large share in the making of his money, and it came more rapidly than was good for her.

Will Not Forgive
And so they were divorced, and he has married again, and lives with a younger and more stylish woman; and she lives on her alimony and drives a big car, and probably is wasteful in big things and stingy in little things.

There are sins great and sins little, but one of the sins for which no man will forgive a woman is that of petty nagging.

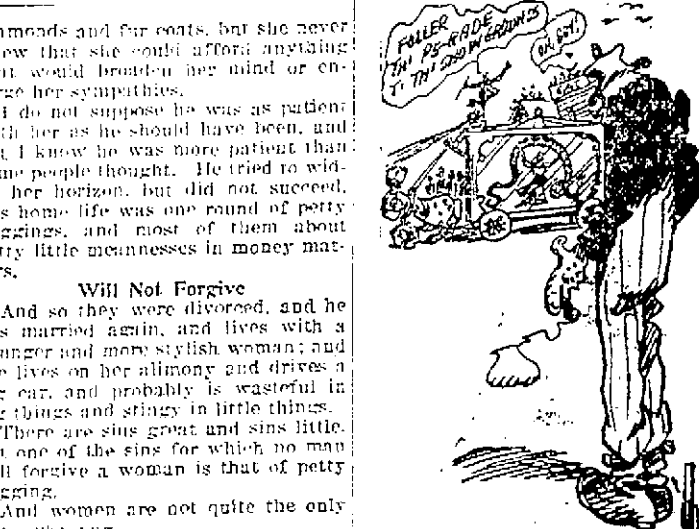

And women are not quite the only ones who nag.

Whoever does it ought to stop it. The divorce court is only one of several ways of stopping it. There are other ways that are cheaper, and much more satisfactory.

Nagging is one of the unpardonable sins. Stop it!

Flattish—When your wife loses her temper, where does it go? Ren-hurst—Oh, I usually get it—Yonkers Statesman.

HARDING IS ASKED TO MAKE MOVE FOR WORLD DISARMING

Petition Signed by Twenty Thousand Clergymen Presented to the President

WASHINGTON.—Steps toward an international conference on reduction of armaments at the earliest possible date were requested Wednesday by President Harding in a petition signed by more than twenty thousand clergymen of every faith and presented by a delegation from the church peace union. It bore the endorsement of the National Catholic Welfare conference, the United Synagogue of America, the Central conference of American rabbis, and the Federated Council of the Churches of Christ in America. Among the listed signers were Baptists, Methodists, Presbyterians, Lutherans, Episcopalians, Disciples of Christ, Congregationalists, Catholics, Unitarians, Friends and Quakers.

The president was quoted by members of the committee as saying he hoped eventually to carry out their request, although the process could not be carried forward as rapidly as many people would like to see it. He also was quoted as saying that the United States must have a general agreement regarding armaments before she could afford to permit her own to be reduced to too low a point.

DREAM LEADS BOY TO PLACE WHERE FATHER DROWNED

DICKINSON, N. D.—A dream vision in which he saw the spot where his father's body lay, led Raymond Everett, 11, to discover the spot Tuesday, according to searches, and the lad's relatives. Tom Everett, the father, was one of three section men swept away and drowned by a flood near Modon Saturday.

The boy was so sure of the location and described it so vividly that searches finally gave him credence and accompanied him to the spot, they say.

Several years ago young Everett announced the death of an aunt according to relatives, several hours before a telegram confirmed his prophecy.

VIROQUA COUNCIL VOTES $50,000 IN HOSPITAL BONDS

VIROQUA, Wis.—By a vote of the city council, it was decided to go ahead with the sale of the $50,000 hospital bonds, voted by the people nearly two years ago. The proposition had not been carried out, because of the high cost of construction at that time.

ENCOURAGING BUS PATRONS

The city of Tacoma, Wash., will soon have one of the most convenient union bus stations on the Pacific coast. With this end in view the work of remodeling the building at Pacific avenue and Eighth street is now being completed. Motor buses for Olympia, Seattle, Puyallup, Sumner and other towns will load and unload their passengers there from an inside platform connecting with the ticket office. Conspicuous waiting rooms will face the ticket offices. A restaurant and small shops will be located in the building. The bus station will be open to any bus company which wants to operate from it. The motor-bus business in Tacoma has developed so rapidly during the last year that the move to make a union bus station in a central location became necessary.

"THE INSIDE OF THE CUP"— RIVOLI

Said to be one of the most remarkable picture productions of the current season, "The Inside of the Cup," a Paramount-Cosmopolitan dramatization of Winston Churchill's famous novel, will be shown at the Rivoli theater for three days beginning today.

When this book was published in 1913, its exposure of hypocrisy among wealthy churchgoers, provoked bitter criticism by the clergy of England and this country. The hero of the story, as in the picture, is the pastor of a fashionable church, who becomes disgusted with certain elements of his flock and severely arraigns them for their shame and hypocrisies.

Director Albert Capellani, however, has paid more attention to the dramatic features of the story than to the philosophy which makes the book almost unforgettable. The scenes are thrilling and the heart appeal culminating in the fruition of a love romance, is irresistible. The cast, headed by William P. Carleton and Betty Hall, is unusually large and artistic.

"PRISONERS OF LOVE"—CASINO

Emory Johnson, supporting Betty Compson in her big picture, "Prisoners of Love," at the Casino today, took up acting in a peculiar fashion. A rich man's son, he was graduated from the University of California. While touring he saw a motion picture company at work. He applied for a job. He got it at eight dollars a week, helping the cameraman. His perfect mimicry of "Prisoners of Love" was of such excellence that Miss Compson engaged him for her second starring production.

"BROADWAY COWBOY"—STRAND

William Desmond in "A Broadway Cowboy" is at the Strand today. It's the story of a tenderfoot in the west, only never was there a tenderfoot like this one, nor adventure and romance of quite the high-spirited power of this original, comedy-drama by Byron Morgan. Desmond, a Jesse P. Hampton-Lafayette luminary, plays the role of Burke Randolph, the star of "The Laughing" a thriller melodrama. When the company goes on tour he goes for Betty Jordan, fair daughter of a bank town in Montana, gets him into the identical breath-catching situation he goes through in "A Western Knight." And Betty, taking a tip from the heroine of the play, rescues him in the same sensational manner.

SENATE APPROVES PURCHASE OF PARK AT NORTHERN LAKES

Also Favor Establishment of State Parks at Dells and in Rock County

MADISON, Wis.—The Northern Lakes park took a step toward reality late Wednesday when the senate voted that the state should purchase the 8,000 acres of timber land and the 2,000 acres of lakes, as a state pleasure ground.

Purchase of the Dells of the Wisconsin river and of Big Hill on the Rock river was also favored by the upper house which voted for acceptance of the projects. Income tax amendment was offered to the Northern Lakes bill, to finance the proposals.

An income tax on salaries over $5,000 annually equal to one-sixteenth of the present tax is provided for in the measure as accepted. This tax would raise $350,000, according to members of the committee, which drew up the amendment. Of this amount $250,000 would go to the Northern Lakes park, $70,000 to the Dells and the remaining money to the other park projects that might be favorably accepted.

IN THE MORNING PAPERS A Summary of the News

DENVER, Colo.—The American Federation of Labor reaffirmed its stand for government control and democratic operation of railroads, and directed that legislation be drawn up to put a similar policy in effect in other industries, was desired by the workers.

COINTEGRATED.—Six boats including a large shipping board tank, sank at Port Arkansas, according to information here.

LAREDO, Tex.—Two soldiers were killed and four wounded in a fight near Laredo, with a force of seventy-five bandits, say reports.

WASHINGTON.—Senator Johnson's resolution for congressional investigation of the Mingo, West Va., coal strike technically passed the senate but Senator King announced that he expected to move a reconsideration and it did not become effective.

CHICAGO, Ill.—W. C. Proctor, Cincinnati, former chairman of the General Wood national campaign committee, filed suit to compel eight organizers to reimburse him $745,032 as their share in the $810,200 expenses of the committee in promoting Wood for president.

Robert and Aunt Mary
Robert Hemmings of Franklin, age three received a number of Easter baskets and bunnies, and one aunt had delighted him by hiding colored eggs in her yard and leaving him hunt for them. His mother in talking to him at night said:
"And do you know, Robert, it made Aunt Mary just as happy as you, for she loves you so much." Robert replied:
"Yes, and I think Aunt Mary is the whole cheese, mother." The parents are still wondering where he heard it.—Indianapolis News.

INCROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

In the old days the young fellow who went courting turned down the gas. Now he steps on it.—Providence Journal.

LOCAL MAN ENJOYS CRUISE ON RESERVE SHIP ON THE LAKES

Albert R. Banasek Has Trip on U. S. S. Hawk for Two Weeks

Albert R. Banasek of the United States naval reserve force, returned today from a two weeks' cruise on board the U. S. S. Hawk, Wisconsin's naval training ship. The reports having had a most enjoyable and profitable vacation, as well as having complied with naval regulations requiring two weeks' active duty per year in order to draw his retention pay, which in the case of a confirmed rating amounts to two months' pay of his rating each year, in addition to fifteen days' pay while on active duty and travel expenses to and from his home.

The U. S. S. Hawk left Milwaukee June 6, proceeding to Waukegan and Chicago. At the latter place she was joined by the U. S. S. Wilmette. Elaborate preparations had been made for the sinking of the U. S. S. Hawk, an ex-German submarine which had sunk seven allied ships during the world war and which was turned over to the United States in accordance with the peace treaty. This infamous viper of the seas was destroyed by gun fire in a quiet and secluded spot of fresh water nearly four thousand miles from its operating base and two and one-half years after the signing of the armistice. The sinking of Von Tirpitz's terror of the seas was participated in by the U. S. S. Hawk, U. S. S. Wilmette, U. S. S. C-112 and a navy hydroplane.

From Chicago the "Hawk" proceeded to Portage Lake, Michigan, where the crew received training at boat drill, rifle practice and swimming.

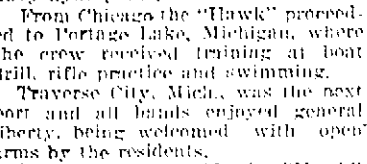

Traverse City, Mich., was the next port and all hands enjoyed general liberty, being welcomed with open arms by the residents.

On Sunday, June 12, the "Hawk" put in at South Manitou Island and proceeded on Monday to Lake Lake, where ball games, swimming and dancing were enjoyed by all at South Manitou park.

Thursday noon, the ship entered the St. Joseph river, where La Salle first looked out over the sand dunes and Lake Michigan and the crew was given an opportunity of visiting the House of David at Benton Harbor.

Friday and Saturday were spent at Chicago and Michigan City, Ind., arriving at Milwaukee, Wis., early Sunday morning.

All in all, it proved an ideal way of spending a vacation.

Albert R. Banasek, of the United States naval reserve force, returned today from a two weeks' cruise on board the U. S. S. Hawk, Wisconsin's naval training ship.

MARKETING BILL GOES TO BLAINE FOR SIGNATURE

Measure Retains Trade Commission Features and is Most Sweeping in Nation

MADISON, Wis.—The marketing bill, with all of its trade commission features intact will go to Governor Blaine for signature, certain of being incorporated into law.

On a point of order, President Comings of the senate, ruled that action of the upper house Wednesday in receding from its position with regard to its amendments limiting scope of the bill, was final and subject to no further review. No move was made to over-ride the decision of the chair.

This gives Wisconsin the most sweeping trade commission bill in the country, not even surpassed by the federal trade commission. It is the first legislation of the kind passed by any state legislature, giving control to the newly created department over business practices as well as broad powers over marketing.

WORLD RECORD COW SETS A NEW RECORD

BLANTFORD, Ont.—Bella Pontiac, the world's record cow, owned by T. A. Barron of Blantford, has set a new record. Figures made public by James Wilson, supervisor of the official test of the Holstein Friesian association, showed that for the fiscal year ending June 18, Bella Pontiac produced 27,017 pounds, fat, 1,275 pounds, and butter, 1,575.75 pounds. Mr. Wilson said these figures were far in excess of any previous record.

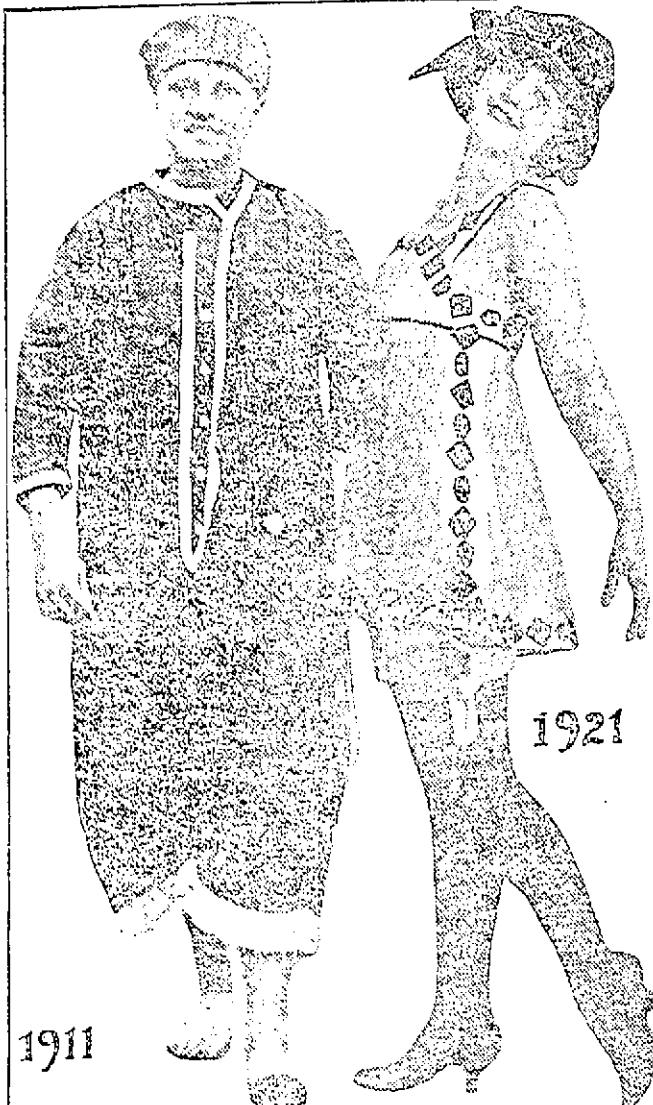

A King Dethroned

Hunters and students of natural history who have studied the lion do not regard him as king in any sense of the word. He quietly suffers out at night, accompanied by his wife, and he sends her off to growl and roar and frighten game into his jaws. He gets the lion's share, she gets the lioness' and when he has satisfied his appetite he does an immense amount of roaring and bragging about his prowess. If the pair have the misfortune to fall across hunters and the lioness is short first, the king of beasts, her husband, bolts and tries to get away. If the lion is first hit, the lioness makes herself very nasty and rushes to her death to avenge him.

A Blind Sategirl

The experiment has been tried in a Boston story of making use of the services of a blind girl as a salesperson. At the end of two weeks the manager reported that her work was up to the average of new employees.

HANG AROUND TILL 1931!

Are we getting anywhere? Who can doubt it? (See photographs above). Both of these pictures were taken at fashionable American beaches. The one on the left was taken just ten years ago—in 1911. The one on the right was taken this spring. Oh, yes! We're making progress! "Ever who" desires to stick around another ten years will kindly fall in line. Please refrain from pushing!

CONCILIATOR HERE, SEEKS SETTLEMENT OF LISTMAN STRIKE

Federal Arbitrator, Trying to Adjust Differences Between Employees and Mill Officials

W. H. Rogers, a labor conciliator of the United States department of labor, arrived in La Crosse today to confer with employees of the Listman Mill, who claim that they have been locked out, and officials of the mill. On June 17, P. H. Bartwell, attorney for the Trades and Labor council, wrote to the department of labor at Washington for a conciliator to adjust the differences between the men and their employers. Rogers is now here to effect a settlement.

Several weeks ago the milling company offered two propositions to their employees, one that they would have a 12-hour day wages or else work eight hours and take an 18 percent cut in wages. The men in answer to the mill officials' proposal rejected the first offer and agreed to accept a lower or even lower wage cut. The employees' counter proposal was turned down by the mill, the plant was closed and the manufacture of flour was carried on in another mill owned by the same concern at Sleepy Eye, Minn.

CREATE NEW BUREAU TO CARE FOR BLIND IN BADGER STATE

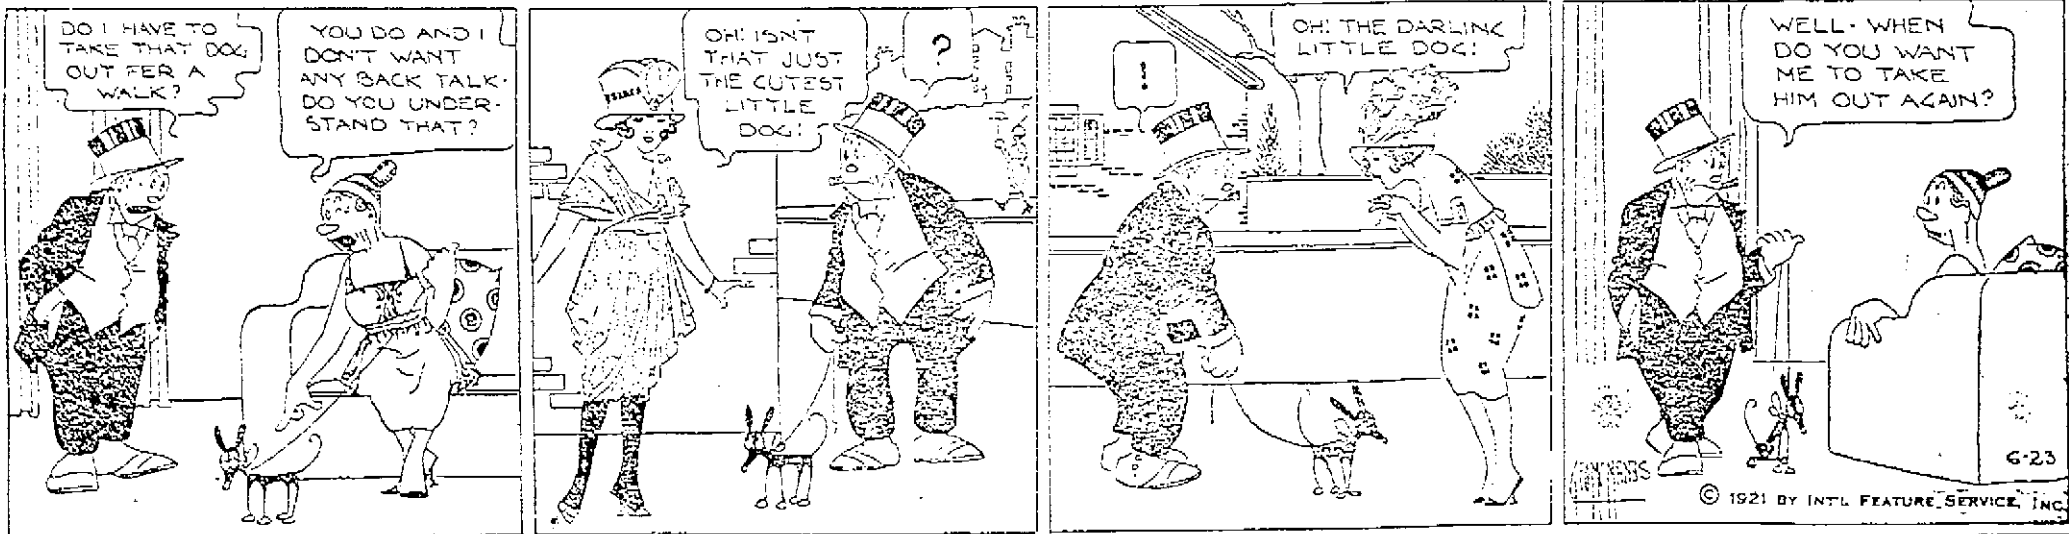

COMMITTEES CONFER ON GOVERNOR'S DRY ENFORCEMENT BILL

Houses at Loggerheads Over Home Brew Amendment to Original Bill

MANY MEASURES DISPOSED OF IN THE ASSEMBLY WEDNESDAY

Concur in Bill to Require Policewomen in Badger Cities

BRINGING UP FATHER

MADISON, Wis.—Committees of the legislature are holding a conference Thursday to see if an agreement can be reached on the Blaine dry enforcement bill. The senate struck the home brew amendment out of the bill early this week, but the assembly late Wednesday afternoon by a vote of 46 to 42 refused to recede from its position. This means that the houses are at loggerheads over the home brew amendment. The assembly by a vote of 69 to 14 then asked that a committee of conference be appointed to take up the question to see whether an agreement can be reached. At the conference Thursday it is understood that the administration forces have agreed to accept an amendment which will incorporate the words of the constitution into the bill prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. The administration forces have taken the position that they will go no further in the enforcement act than the exact words of the constitution. By a vote of 71 to 6 the assembly adopted a joint resolution by Assemblyman C. E. Hanson condemning the present article appropriations which the resolution declares are costing the country $200,000 a year. The assembly expressed the sentiment in a strong form of censure for the sale of long tobacco. It killed the $200,000 bill for establishment of public utilities districts in cities. A bill similar to this was vetoed by Gov. Phelps two years ago. It killed a bill relating to consolidation of school districts and a bill prohibiting hunting at night in Sheboygan County. By a vote of 46 to 42 it concurred in the Nye bill requiring hotel keepers of the state to post rates of their rooms and prohibiting deviation from that rate without notice of 10 days. Senator Back's bill requiring appointment of a governor in cities of the first, second and third class was concurred in by the assembly 69 to 9. The house also concurred in the bill creating a free high school district in the town of Phelps and another bill permitting increased membership of councils in commission governments of cities of the second and third class. The bill for the creation of municipal court in the county of Fond du Lac

A Shower of Dirt

The amount of dirt borne in the air of a big and smoky city is astonishing. It is estimated that in the course of a year considerably over 11 tons of dirt are deposited on each square kilometer of London. The city, however, is steadily growing cleaner, for in 1910 the deposit was more than 14 tons, and it has steadily decreased year by year since. The air is dirtiest in London about 10:30 a. m. It then clears and becomes dirty again between 4 and 5 p. m. The building of morning and evening fogs is mainly to blame for the pollution.

A WORTHWHILE SAVING

LAYING shingles on a roof the whole day long in the hot sun is not a particularly appealing job for a beautiful June day. Then why not roof the easiest and quickest way and save a lot of work as well as a lot of expense.

All types of Nelson Roofs are simple to lay. The 4-in-1 Shingle type is so constructed that you can lay four shingles at once. When the job is completed, you have an evenly laid absolutely weather-tight roof that looks like one of individual shingles. Then too, a Nelson Roof being surfaced with natural colored slate requires no staining and practically no repainting.

Your lumber dealer will gladly show you the complete line of Nelson Roofs. There is a Nelson Roof for every type of building. Write today for free samples and a copy of the booklet "The Proof of a Roof", an interesting story of roofing progress.

WORLD SUPREMACY IN AIR GERMANY'S AIM SAYS BRONNER

Destiny on Land and Sea. Nation to Prepare to Win Control of Air

ONLY FRANCE SURPASSES
GERMANY IN THE AIR

U.S. and Great Britain Far Behind Germany

BY MILTON BRONNER
BERLIN.—Destiny on land and temporarily driven off the sea, the demands are convinced there is a great future in the air, and that they are going to prepare for it.

In the windows of the former great shipping companies are prominently displayed the blue labels of the daily services by airplane between Berlin and the rest of Germany, with connections for Copenhagen, Holland and Bremen.

On the news stands you will find such magazines as "Der Luftwacht".
"The Airway" and others, all devoted entirely to aviation topics.

Officers Organized
You pass a big comfortable house
out of which soldiers' camps come sitting and rest, where planes are, only to learn that it is the swiftest Aero club of Germany, one of a number of such organizations.

It passes a point of having lectures and exhibitions on aerial technical subjects. All former flying officers of the German military and naval aviation corps are made welcome. On every Thursday there are sessions of such officers.

Again, you pass the office of one of the big German insurance companies and you learn that the principal ones of Germany have formed an air pool for the purpose of insuring all kinds of flying craft against loss. The combined capital of the companies is for hundreds of millions marks.

All of this means that in spite of the restrictions of the Treaty of Versailles sought to place upon German aerial plans, the people of this empire are nevertheless making rapid strides for supremacy of the air.

Only one nation rivals Germany in the air and that is France. We with our boundless wealth are hopelessly behind the Germans. So is England.

Airplane Facilities
At the close of the war Germany had 18 factories employing 51,300 men in the construction of airplanes and dirigibles.

Under the treaty provisions these factories have been forced to stop making such things, so they have been converted into plants for making war-gas, agricultural implements, etc.

Nevertheless, the technical directors of these old-time aviation plants are still at work and many still have their specialized bureaus in operation.

Also some firms like Zeppelin, Al-batros, Junker and Dornier are still in existence as airplane makers.

The tendency in German aviation work has been to develop the giant airplane and dirigible. This is especially true of three types.

First—Enlargement of aircraft by increase of power, brought about by multiplication in the number of engines which are arranged in the wings.

Second—enlargement of aircraft by increase of power brought about by multiplication in the number of motors which are arranged in the central fuselage or body and designed to drive
one or more propellers through the mechanism of shafts or gearing.

Third—A type displaying radical departures from procedure in design and aiming at greater all-round efficiency irrespective of the arrangement of motors or power installation.

Greatest Companies
The most active daily flight service is the Deutsche Luft-Reederei, which is connected in a business way with the Hamburg-American Steamship company, and the Seefahrt Unternehmen, which is connected in a business way with the North German Lloyd Steamship company.

The Deutsche Luft-Reederei, on November 20, finished its one millionth kilometer of accomplished flights, or over 25 times around the earth.

At present there is a regular daily
service which starts at Bremen,
through Berlin, Brunswick, Hamburg to Dortmund and vice versa. There is also a regular service from Bremen to Amsterdam, connecting with the Dutch service to London.

The Seefahrt has a regular daily service from Berlin through Bremen to Münster. The Lloyd-ostling runs a daily service from Berlin through Danzig to Königsberg. The Kumpfer runs one from Berlin through Leipzig to Munich. The German Luft-Lloyd runs a service from Berlin to Mühlbach and another from Hamburg through Magdeburg to Bremen. Then there are a number of similar runs.

New Repairing Device
Quick automobile radiator repairing is now done by an improved device which pumps a thin stream of molten putty onto the faulty parts and the surplus falls into a pan where it is caught and made use of again.

Automobiles are now being used on high speed electric transmission lines because it is light and offers comparatively little resistance.

RAGINE VISITORS RECEIVED AT ROYAL PALACE OF DENMARK

Party of Badger Singers at Reception Given by Brother of King

COPENHAGEN.—By The Associated Press.—Thirty-five singers of Danish descent from Racine, Wisconsin, were received Thursday morning
by the acting regent, Prince Harold,
brother of King Christian, who expressed the regret of the king of his inability to meet the singers personally. He also asked them to convey the king's greetings to all Americans of Danish birth. After the reception, one of the singers said: "It was like a fairy tale for American citizens like us to be ushered into the glorious royal palace among the powdered flun-keys." Prince Harold, treating us like brothers, cordially shook hands with each of us. He told us King Christian never was so happy as when the late Theodore Roosevelt told him Danish immigrants made the best American citizens, although the king naturally was sorry Denmark was geographically so limited that it was necessary to export thousands of young people every year.

At a dinner given the singers tonight by students of the foreign ministry, the minister of defense, and the lord mayor of Copenhagen, and Joseph C. Crow, the American minister, and a number of other members were present.

The Orang-Outang
It is impossible for an orang-outang to stand upright or to turn about without supporting himself by means of his arms; nor does he ever walk with a stick, as he is often represented. The number and arrangement of his teeth are the same as those of man, but his teeth are all stronger, and his jaw-joint project like those of a beast of prey. Although possessed of great physical strength and very belligerent, the orang-outang is a vegetarian, living on fruits, buds, and young sprouts, but varying his diet by robbing birds, nests and hunting insects. In captivity he eats soaked rice, milk, raw eggs, oranges, dates and is very fond of bananas and white bread.

Less Railway Fatalities
The number of deaths from railway accidents in the United States in 1919 was 6,195, which is lower than during any previous year since 1898.

A German engineer has devised an instrument which can detect water
and metal in the ground.

DELIGHTFUL HAIR WASH

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist's a package of candied and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough
so it is easy to apply it to all the hair,
instead of just the top of the head.

Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and hair, and both are entirely covered by the daintily perfumed preparation that thoroughly dissolves and removes every bit of dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing the hair dries quickly with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.

MESSAGE OF CHEER

Mrs. Bates Batchelor of Paris, is returning from New York to the devoted regions of Belgium and France to sing to the children there.
She sings for charity.

Guess For the Fourth Time
An investigator of Greenwich Village manners wants to know why the waiters in one restaurant carry knives in their teeth. We understand, however, that these knives are never used until a poet tries to recite his bit of verse like the third time at the same meal.—New York Herald.

ASPIRIN

SENATE YIELDS TO HOUSE ON BLAINE MARKETING BILL

Action Regarded as Victory for the Administration
Forces

MADISON, Wis.—The stand of the senate in receding on a roll call of 14
to 13 from its position limiting scope of the administration marketing bill,
is a distinct victory for the farmer members of the legislature who have steadily advocated a marketing bill with strong trade commission features.

Vote will be taken some time today on final passage of the measure before it goes to the governor. There is expected to be no fight against the proposal now, because of president members have made to support marketing legislation. It is exactly in the form recommended from the assembly agricultural committee early in the session.

Bitter fight has been waged against the trade commission features of the bill from the start, by business men and manufacturers. At times it appeared that defeat was inevitable, only to have farmer members swing the tide to their side.

Several senators changed their votes on the question of receding
Wednesday. Senators Roethlisberger, Petersen and Ridgeway had previously stood with those who opposed the grant of trade commission powers, but in the line-up were favorable to receding.

STREW SEA WITH FLOWERS IN HONOR OF DEAD AVIATORS

Forty Planes Take Part in Memorial to Flyers
Killed Wednesday

NEWPORT NEWS.—Nearly two score army planes, commanded by lieutenant General Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service, covered the week of the old battleship Maine
and the waters of Chesapeake bay nearly with flowers Thursday in memory of Captain Howard Douglas and Lieutenant M. J. Plumb, killed Wednesday in one of the strangest air accidents on record. A 300 pound TNT bomb exploded near the aviators as their machines hit the water after colliding in the air and it is believed that both the men and machines were blown to pieces. Only a few pieces of wreckage have been found.

Both aviators were considered pioneers in the service and maneuvers have been suspended in their honor.
Plumb's home was in Fond du Lac,
Wis.

LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE MAY CHANGE HANDS ON FOURTH OF JULY

Both Freedman and Leonard are Heavy Punchers; Big Demand for Seats

BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—The possibility that the lightweight championship may change hands on the afternoon of Monday, July 4, when Benny Leonard risks his title against the sturdy Chicago challenger, Sailer Freedman, has created a heavy demand for seats.

Both men are heavy punchers. Freedman, promoter of the bout, was mindful of this fact when he signed the pair, and is chuckling now as requests for tickets flow into Benton Harbor with every mail. Fitzsimmons has been fortunate in staging fights that the fans will never tire of talking of. "It's the knockout that supplies the public's fancy," says Fitzsimmons. "Both Leonard and Freedman can punch and the chance for the bout to end at any time will be there in every round."

Fans will recall that Leonard, after being knocked out of the ring in the sixth round by Charley White last year, rallied sufficiently to put White down for the count in the ninth. Billy Alsko, facing the new Dempsey wallop on Labor day, met a similar fate in the third round. And the fans, on both occasions, went home satisfied. Freedman displayed his knockout punch on the first day of his boxing here, as two of his sparring partners can testify. These are Bill Johnson, a welterweight, and Willie Jackson, a bantamweight. Both were out on their feet after three minutes of fighting.

LEWIS-ZBYSZKO MATCH CALLED OFF

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Because Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, refused to sign articles for a match with Stanislaus Zbyszko, present titleholder, a wrestling bout scheduled between them here for Monday night has been called off. Lewis claims he was not given a fair show in the division of the purse.

WASHINGTON—The war department's holder of the United States army polo championship title won the first international military polo tournament, defeating the Cuban army four, nine to one.

MYSTERIOUS THINGS OCCUR AT CHALLENGER'S QUARTERS

MANHASSET, N. Y.—Mysterious things occurred Thursday at Georges Carpentier's training camp and when an explanation was requested the answer came in a whisper: "Sh-h-h, it's a secret, and we cannot tell."

About eight o'clock a big limousine stopped at the front gate and the chauffeur hailed Trainer Wilson and the latter came down and opened the gate. The machine pulled inside and three heavyweights stepped from it. To conceal their identity they pulled their coat collars about their faces and ran into the residence.

A few early birds who hung over the fence waited and watched. Soon they saw four men clad in bathrobes leave the back door and hasten behind the barn where Georges does his training.

Noises sounding like the tattoo of drums upon a punching bag could be heard for a time, then there was silence for twenty minutes. First one and then another of the robed figures filed into the house. The last appeared to be the challenger himself, Trainer Wilson, followed, carrying several pairs of boxing gloves.

Another half hour and the three heavyweights still were whisked away.

CREW OF FIFTY-THREE REPORTED ON BOARD MISSING NAVAL TUG

No Word Heard from Conestoga Since Latter Part of March

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The names of the four officers and forty-nine enlisted men aboard the lost naval tug, Conestoga, were made public by Secretary Denby, who said he still refused to abandon hope that the tug or her company would be found. She sailed from Mare Island March 25 for San Francisco, via Pearl Harbor and no word has been heard from her since despite a thorough search of Pacific waters. A list of the crew compiled from the last muster roll includes:

Lieutenant Ernest L. Jones, commanding, Newport.
Harvey H. Reinbold, executive officer, Bethlehem, Pa.
A. A. Liscomb, engineer, Salina, Col.

GIVE POLICEWOMEN A CHANCE TO CURE EVILS OF THE DAY

Policemen are in a Rut, Declares Speaker at Milwaukee Social Work Conference

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Genuines, musicians and linguists may be only about seven years old mentally, if you put to them the right questions, declared Dr. William Healey, director of the Judge Baker Foundation, Boston, before the conference of policewomen here Wednesday. Dr. Healey referred to the present experimental stage of all mental tests, declaring that any attempt to classify an individual by sticking a number on him that is supposed to designate his exact intelligence is absurd.

Miss Henrietta Addison of the Inter-departmental Social Hygiene board, Washington, D. C., said that the underworld has given delinquents such a cynical outlook on life that, if policewomen are to be successful they should be trained social workers who can combat these conditions.

Policemen in Rut

Policemen are in a rut; it is time to give policewomen a chance at the evils that call for police service, was the message of Dr. George S. Kirckway, former warden of Sing Sing prison, now teacher in the New York School of Social Work.

"The worth of policewomen will be judged not by the number of arrests they make but by the number of arrests they prevent by taking up cases before they reach the crime stage."

"Just as law has become an end in itself to many in the profession, so the police have come to the attitude of hitting a head when they see it, nabbing criminals when they are able to instead of waging war against crime," said Dr. Kirckway.

"If a little high school flapper has pretty legs, she wants to show them. If we made a regulation that no suits were to be worn at the bathing beaches, there would be a lot of girls who would obey the law, because they want to be bizarre and sensational."

This is the view of Mrs. Gertrude Thurston, policewoman of Winnetka, Ill., here at the policewomen's conference.

"But once in a while they have to be told a few things about dressing decently and obeying the law," Mrs. Thurston said.

"We have to tell the girls not to wear one-piece bathing suits and to button up their coats when they walk through the streets. And once in a while, when a strange girl comes, we tell her to go home."

Registration of the 5,000 delegates to the national conference of social work began today. The hundreds who have been in Milwaukee attending meetings of kindred groups put their names on the list. Many others are reaching the city hourly. The conference will convene at 8 p. m. Thursday night.

Delight over Milwaukee's auditorium and the facility with which the 120 meetings scheduled for the week can be held under one roof was generally expressed.

Simple Reduction

"Now, tell me the truth," said the fussy old lady to the corner mendicant, "are you really blind?"

"Yes, ma'am said the beggar.

"What is that I am about to give you?"

"A nickel, ma'am."

"But if you are blind how do you know it's a nickel?"

"Because, ma'am, I never get more than a nickel out of people like you."
